

Extended Deadline Call for Papers (27th April) - Polytechnic Summit 2022

Due to author requests, we are delighted to announce the deadline for submitting a paper for the POLYTECHNIC SUMMIT 2022 in DARMSTADT has been extended. We are now accepting papers until 27TH APRIL 2022. If you are considering participating in PS 2022, now is the time. If you have already started your submission process, but have not yet finished, you have more time to do so. Besides, we thank those who have already submitted a paper.

Paper submission through HTTPS://EASYCHAIR.ORG/CONFERENCES/?CONF=PS2022

Be part of PS 2022 in Darmstadt and make an impact in the polytechnic education community. PS 2022 is looking for innovative contributions on the following themes:

- Design (Programmes, Curriculum, Organisation)
- Practice-Based Learning
- Applied Research
- Employability and Graduate Skills
- Internationalisation, Global Teaching & Collaboration
- Sustainability Theme

The Summit addresses the future of polytechnic education at Universities of Applied Sciences. It provides a forum to focus on innovation in curriculum and pedagogy as well as on applied research, to share best practices in active and applied teaching, and discuss practice-based research to enhance student learning. With pleasure, we can announce two of our keynotes: "FUTURE PERSPECTIVES OF TEACHING AT UNIVERSITIES OF APPLIED SCIENCES" (working title) given by Prof. Dr. Ulrike Tippe, President of TH Wildau and Vice President of the German Rectors' Conference and "DESIGNING AN OPEN POLYTECHNIC UNIVERSITY" given by Dr. Michael Lacourse, Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, Utah Tech University

A welcome speech will be presented by Themis Christophidou, Director-General for Education, Youth, Sport and Culture at the European Commission. For more information, please visit our website www.h-da.de/ps2022, the registration is open through our ticket shop.
