

Call for Papers for Special Issue in 2022-2023 - Education for Sustainable Development: Pedagogical Innovations Empowering Transformation towards a Resilient and Regenerative Future

The Irish Journal of Academic Practice (IJAP) has decided to publish a special edition focused on Education for Sustainable Development in Summer 2023. The call for papers is now open <https://arrow.tudublin.ie/ijap/>

Deadline for Abstracts is 27th November 2022 (through Arrow) with a view to final paper submission by Easter 2023.

A variety of papers, including original research articles, reviews, commentaries or reflections, are welcome, with the aim of capturing pedagogical innovations, underpinning institutional strategy and capacity building across higher education contributing to SDG 4.7.
